Dive deep into the history, culture, and cuisine of Vietnam as we explore the impacts of war on this beautiful southeast Asian country. Wandering the narrow streets of Hanoi's Old Quarter we learn about Vietnamese culture, sample delicious local dishes, and take time to visit the infamous Hanoi Hilton Prison Museum to gain insight into the American War. We delve deeper into the effects of war by learning about the long-term impacts of Agent Orange and lend a hand at a community center for children who suffer from side-effects from the use of this pesticide. Next we have the unique opportunity to take part in a panel discussion with war veterans and learn about their personal experiences in the "American War." After working hard in the city, we head to Ha Long Bay to visit the traditional floating villages, explore the magnificent karst landscape, and reflect on the strength of this resilient country.
